A word on the cover:
The cover art shows six panels of a painting that depicts the exponential growth of knowledge from darkness and ignorance enveloping the little person to an intensifying brightness and clearer world. The scenario becomes more complicated with the explosion and interconnectedness of information. The first panel of bare indigo dark landscape becomes illuminated by a constellation of signs and symbols connected to one another in a myriad way in the successive panels. The black, orange, yellow circles symbolize the semantics of meaning creation and meaning communicated by the little person, the decision analyst.

The artist Dr. Rajini Sarma Balachandran is a Ph.D. in Political Science from New York University and has exhibited her paintings in the New York/New Jersey area.

Information For
Efficient Decision Making
Big Data, Blockchain and Relevance

Can there be reliable information that is also relevant to decision making? Information for Efficient Decision Making: Big Data, Blockchain and Relevance focuses on the consolidation of information to facilitate making decisions in firms, in order to make their operations efficient to reduce their costs and consequently, increase their profitability. The advent of blockchain has generated great interest as an alternative to centralized organizations, where the data is gathered through a centralized ledger-keeping of activities of the firm. The decentralized ledger-keeping is one of the main features of blockchain that has given rise to many issues of technology, development, implementation, privacy, acceptance, evaluation and so on. Blockchain concept is a follow-up to big data environment facilitated by enormous progress in computer hardware, storage capacities and technological progress. This has resulted in the rapid acquiring of data not considered possible earlier. With shrewd modeling analytics and algorithms, the applications have grown to significant levels.
